

A 20x20 heatmap visualization showing a color gradient from yellow to black. The colors transition from bright yellow in the top-left corner to black in the bottom-right corner, with intermediate colors like orange, red, and purple. The grid is composed of 400 individual cells, each with a distinct color, creating a smooth gradient effect across the entire area.

